your nugget is in three sections this year: fall, winter, and spring. this is done to make the book current and at the same time give a more complete coverage of the college year; the 1950 nugget will contain graduation, spring formals and other material that has either been omitted or only partially included in the past. in addition cost will be cut down, more pages added and color employed.

to

who has given twenty-two years of service to cc who, as dean of women, instituted and developed the associated women students and its affiliated organizations. who has kept the standards of living high for the women of colorado college, and has helped many over milestones that seemed unsurmountable by her unceasing efforts, her fairness and her honesty.

who became president of colorado college in 1948. who has made every effort to become acquainted with the students and their problems. whose concern with every phase of college life and interest in student opinion point toward a growing understanding and co-operation between the administration and the student body.

along with the freshman week activities of dances, chuck wagon dinner, fashion show and new friends, word spread of the ancient and horrible red lantern, actually composed of twelve sterling members of the senior class dedicated to upholding the traditions of c.c., it was thought to be a group loose from Dante's "Inferno."

through get acquainted parties, that included evening walks and hair in front of hagerman hall, it was learned that this red lantern is composed of students, since the discard of dinks, sweaters, paddles and ribbons a few members of the class of '53 have been heard to remark that the members are really human beings.

JIM
president

our student council is the voice of the student body on this campus. members from each social organization meet weekly with the president, jim kinder, to discuss problems of student welfare, social activities and the place of our campus in the world at large and in the community of colleges and universities.

through the council our opinions on faculty, curriculum, administration and services are expressed to the people in policy making positions. the president of the ascc is a student representative on the committee on undergraduate life. through council support and financial help various committees work to give the students control and expression in matters directly concerning them. among these committees are the lennox house, chapel, publications and assembly boards, the nsa committee and the honor council.

n.s.a. officers: Bill MacDonald, treasurer; Maggie Packard, vice president of educational problems; Peter Buckstaff, president; Clarice Hads, R.M.R. secretary; Jane Little, vice president of student life. Missing from picture: Bill Schoof, vice president of international affairs; Jim Kinder, R.M.R. treasurer; Bill Murray, R.M.R. public relations officer.

the chapel board acts as a liaison between students and dean broome, dean of the chapel. it is representative of the major religious groups on campus and meets to discuss matters of chapel policy.

conduct, program, essence of service and compulsion all come within the scope of this board. it works to make the weekly chapel an event of meaning to our student body.

the associated women's students board is representative of all the women's organizations. it deals with problems of all women on the campus, both town and dorm. the aws sponsors freshman week activities for the women and helps make new co-eds at home on the campus.

during the year the aws is responsible for the buzz-bees, coordination of women's activities and the annual aws banquet. the president, gale george this year, sits with the committee of undergraduate life to give them the undergraduate female point of view.

The membership of the Intrafraternity Council is composed of the President and one elective from each of the five chapters. The group meets the second Tuesday of each month with its advisor, the Dean of Men. It acts chiefly as a coordinating body between the fraternities.

PANHELLENIC

Membership of the Panhellenic council is made up of one senior and one junior representative from each of the four sororities. The group meets once a week with its advisor, the Dean of Women. The council's primary purpose is to provide cooperation among the sororities and to supervise the selection of members to these groups.

KANSAS WESLEYAN 7

colorado college's eleven showed that their near upset of colorado a & m was no accident as they trounced kansas wesleyan 34 to 7. this game saw virtually all of the tiger reserves in action. it was the home team's ball game all the way although two early drives folded inside of the kansas twenty yard line as cc scored in all but the third quarter. the bengals seemed to take it easy in that period

COLORADO STATE 13

a fighting colorado college delegation finally overcame the greeley jinx as they handed the bears a 39 to 13 whipping thereby earning their first rocky mountain conference win of the season. the tigers came from behind in the second quarter after spotting the bears a touchdown and then proceeded to calmly maul the opposition all over the field. this was fitting justice as last year greeley spoiled the cc homecoming so in retaliation cc turned around and spoiled greeley's homecoming. the colorado springs boys scored three times in the first half and turned the game into a rout by scoring three times in the second stanza.

the tigers enjoyed a happy homecoming by romping over the bengals from ft. hayes, kansas, 19 to 7. it was cc's third victory of the season as they downed a hustling kansas state team. although the hometown team couldn't seem to get rolling on offense, this game exhibited probably the best defensive play shown by the tigers in quite a while. the offense, marred by frequent fumbles, lacked the fine edge shown in previous games, however, it was good for three touchdowns and a homecoming victory.

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY 27

the black and gold lost its third game of the year as the bears from st. louis, mo., tripped them 27 to 0 in an "out-of-the-league game." washington struck like lightning and before the first quarter was thirteen minutes old, they had racked up twenty points and cc hadn't penetrated inside their thirty-five yard line. the tigers threatened only once with the ball being taken to the bear eight yard stripe, however, fate stepped in with a penalty on each of the next two plays and the ball went over to washington. this was the final loss the tigers incurred in their nine game schedule.

this can easily be titled "the game of the year" on november 19th the tigers and the oreiggers from the colorado school of mines met on washburn field for the rmc championship with the result of colorado college annexing its first rocky mountain conference crown since the undefeated team of 1941 walked away with the title.
it was a thrilling game all of the way with suspense being the theme of this all important battle.

the miners first touchdown could almost be called a gift as an alert oreidger scooped up a cc lateral that was fumbled and crossed the goal line to send the mines into the lead 6 to 0. the attempted conversion was blocked by a hard charging tiger line. not about to lose the championship because of a bad break, the tigers started a touchdown drive that cumulated when the all-important extra point was made.

in the second half the miners, who were suffering desperately, started a drive that came to a halt on the cc one yard line when an oreidger fumbled and an alert tiger fell on the ball over the goal line to give the black and gold a touchdown which meant that it was the tigers ball on their own twenty. the miners got possession once again when cc punted but lost it on downs and the tigers held on to the ball until the final gun sounded.

the tiger cubs succeeded in winning four out of their five scheduled games. although they were weak in reserves, the lack of manpower was supplemented by the athletic ability of the team members. no first team could be named with the opposing teams running a platoon system it was inevitable that the tigers should do the same, using all the available team members.

despite their many handicaps the frosh, with only one loss to a non-conference opponent, kept up with the varsity and won the conference championship.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

the intra-mural council sets the dates for the various intra-mural sports and makes up the i-m schedule. it is composed of representatives from each of the men's social organizations on campus. pictured above with faculty advisor cheddy thompson and manager milo yalick are: back row: Yalick, Ed Kohlmeier, Sigma Chi, Neal Harrison, Independent; Bob Malowney, Beta Theta Pi; Doug Van Metre, Phi Gamma Delta. front row: Stan Brenton, Phi Delta Theta; Don Posey, Kappa Sigma; Thompson.

WICHITA ALL-STARS SERIES

cc 5, w.a.s. 4: coach chedy thompson's puck chasers opened their season in albuquerque by meeting the Wichita all-stars, a spirited sextet of former colorado college hockey players, and survived a surprising third period display of power which fell short of victory as the tigers eked out a 5-4 win after leading 5-1 at the end of the second period. cc 10, w.a.s. 1: apparently having decided that the previous night's contest was too hard on the nerve, the tigers slashed back the second night with "boom-boom" attack behind speedy andre gambucci, who tallied five times, to all but skate the all stars off the ice to the tune of 10-1. cc 9, w.a.s. 0: opening their home schedule a week later, the cc hockey club proved itself a speedy, smooth-passing aggregation as they polished off the all-stars for the third time. the tigers were again paced by gambucci's three-goal hat-trick. goalie clark wilder turned in the season's first shut-out. cc 13, w.a.s. 3: scoring four goals in the first period, two in the second and seven in the third, the bengals served notice on the visiting alumni that their alma mater was well represented in the coming collegiate competition. the evening brought gambucci's third consecutive hat-trick with veteran center harry whitworth's first of the season.

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN SERIES

cc 6, us 3: matching their two lines with the canadian's three, the tigers were greatly aided with excellent defense by len maccini, jim starrak, captain mike yalich, and goalie clark wilder, as their four-goal lead at the end of the second period easily provided the margin of victory in cc's first intercollegiate victory. cc 9, us 6: the goal-getting bengals blasted out a 3-1 first period lead, but as the game settled down, it developed into a 5-5 tie late in the second, with a bare 6-5 margin opening the third period, the boys from feijon tech added three more goals to the visitors' one, it was hat-trick night for chris ray as the scoring went. whitworth, ray, berry, yalich, ray, hartwell, gambucci, ray, and frasca, this was the second time in cc history that they have slapped double losses on canadian teams --- last year it was 3-2 and 6-5 over the university of alberta.

BROWN UNIVERSITY SERIES

cc 12, bu 7: brown university became the first club this season to lead over the tigers on two separate occasions, it was 1-0 in the opening minutes, only to be tied by whitworth at 4:46, again it was brown university 4-2 opening the second, but seven straight cc goals switched the period's final to 9-4, tiger scoring showed whitworth with 4, ray 3, frasca 2, starrak, yalich, and gambucci with one each. cc 8, bu 5: although by this time in the season three deep in most positions, colorado college was forced to call on its veterans to edge out brown the second night, it was the whitworth-ray-hartwell line, with assistance from defensemen yalich and starrak that decided the game, leading only 4-3 going into the final stanza, cc iceman chris ray accounted for his third consecutive hat-trick with two quick goals shortly after the opening.

UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

cc 4, bc 8: in what had been heralded as cc's sternest test of the season, their ten-game winning streak was halted by the visiting canadian team, after four shots and eight minutes, bc had acquired a 3-0 lead, and as the rough, well-played game progressed, cc's poor play tactics were continually upset by the rugged chivalry from north of the border. cc 3, bc 5: it was apparently decided that it'd rather see cc's sturdy bulldog defense end the season with goal-tending stopped shots that normally light the cc goal bulb. it was in this setting that coach thompson let forth some of his wittier formula: "i told the team before the first game that in the past four years cc has won 90 percent of its games in which the tigers scored first," thompson added, "and i've got the records to prove it."

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA SERIES

cc 8, nd 5: north dakota hadn't been on broadmoor ice for more than four minutes and the score was 2-0 in their favor, in what developed to be one of the roughest hockey games ever witnessed here, cc roared back to tie the contest at 4-4, going into the second period with the score knotted at 3-3, the tigers scored four times in the second, and were still leading 7-5 in the final stanza. the 8-5 final score carried with it newspaper headlines: a first class pier 6 brawl. cc 3, nd 3: in a sharp contrast to the seesawing of the previous night, colorado college and north dakota battled to a 3-3 deadlock, with the game being called at the end of the regulation 20 minutes due to mutual agreement of the coaches, both apparently happy enough for a tied game; it had been north dakota that had scored in the last minute and a half to tie the game.

DENVER UNIVERSITY SERIES

cc 16, du 0: venturing into collegiate hockey for the first time, the inexperienced denver university squad was whitewashed in easy fashion by the veteran tigers; the shut-outs marked the second perfect night for goalie clark wilder, although he handled only six saves that ventured past the tiger defensemen. cc 10, du 0: closing out their two-game visit to colorado springs, the denver sextet again found themselves on the short end of the score. cc 14, du 1: a denver crowd of 5232 persons, the largest ever to see an ice hockey game in colorado, watched the visiting tigers explode for three periods, with 5, then 2, and finally 5 more. high spot of the game at the denver rink came when du scored at 8:07 in the third period. the vaunted bengals retaliated by plunking three within a minute and three seconds. sophomores bill macdonald and ron hartwell turned in hat-tricks. cc 10, du 3: it was jim starrak night to lead the bengals with a hat-trick as the expected occurred when cc scored its fourth victory over the hapless pioneers.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN SERIES

cc 1, mich 5: the wolverines, who had lost only once in 14 games, whipped three first period goals past the cc defense, and then continued with two more in the final period. goalie roy ikola was credited with what the wire reports called a "terrific job" as he handled 38 saves — eight in one three minute period while cc was one man short. cc 1, mich 11: colorado college's only threat came early in the first period when whitworth scored to bring the game to a 2-1 threat. the ann arbor fans went wild as the home-town skaters roared on for nine more tallies, having already defeated north dakota and minnesota, this final victory over cc assured mighty michigan of a western berth in the highly coveted ncaa playoffs.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA SERIES

cc 8, minn 6: going into this series with a 13-2-1 record, to prove a claim for an ncaa tournament berth, the tigers ventured onto minneapolis ice and in a nip and tuck battle moved one step closer with an 8-6 win over minnesota, one of the west-midwest contenders. with hat-tricks for chris ray and ron hartwell, it had been ray who had scored twice in the first period to give the bengals a 3-1 lead only to see the gophers climb back into the match to take a 3-4 lead, cc tied 4-4. minn. lead again 4-5. cc exploded for an 8-6 win. cc 2, minn 4: two goals in the final stanza gave the gophers the win; this time after the game had been moved to rochester. the narrow confines of the new rink brought constant whistles for off-sides and the tigers were unable to click. cc 9, minn 2: back in colorado two weeks later, the tigers entered their last two games knowing it was now-or-never for that tourney bid. they needed two wins to do it. the gophers skated to a 2-1 first period lead. the determined black and gold opened their big guns and after twelve minutes of the second stanza they had potted six goals, they added two more in the final. cc 6, minn 1: thompson's icemen boomed to a 3-1 lead within the first six minutes in the final game of the season. chris ray opened the scoring, lawrence and whitworth followed, hartwell scored twice, and whitworth again for the final win. two days later, march 6th, brought the official announcement that colorado college and michigan would represent the west-midwest in the championship playoffs.

opening their 1949-50 season, the colorado college cagers exhibited next-to-perfect form as they battled the highly vaunted denver chevrolet (a-u) quintet to a 49-47 deadlock only to lose out 60-57 in the overtime. the first road series began three days later in the university of iowa fieldhouse when the host 22-man squad outscored the tigers' ten 76-51. the next night in omaha, it was creighton university to hand them a close 58-51 loss. returning for its first intercollegiate home series, it was ft. hays of kansas that kept the bengals in the loss column with two more drubbings, 65-44 and 66,39.

as the cc student body began dispersing for christmas vacation, the black and gold dribble-boys began their grueling "five games in five nights in five states" mid-west swing opening with nebraska wesleyan (lost 73-18); then into iowa to meet drake university (lost 75-60); on to peoria and the caterpillar diesels (lost 66-48); and finally up into minnesota for st. thomas (lost 65-51) and the first tiger win of the season, a 65-56 decision over gustavus adolphus.

back in colorado after christmas, the bengals entertained a visiting colorado aggies squad by practically giving them an easy 53-33 first night win. but, the next night was new year's eve, and the old year was closed out with a cc win, 47-44.

rocky mountain conference play began the first week-end of the new year with colorado state's defending champions just squeezing by the host tigers, 55-49. on the road again; this time to montana and the montana state bobcats for two more rmc losses, 73-65 and 63-54. it was close that first night — cc leading 65-64 going into the last two minutes, when this year's new "two-minute rule" gave the bobcats nine straight free throws as the tigers attempted to recover the ball from the stalling staters — but the second was a montana ead throughout.

st. michaels of new mexico found themselves greatly outclassed as they ventured into the tiger arena for two drubbings, 69-36 and 77-38. with these two games the cc cagers began their only winning streak of the season — a stretch that ended at six games. opening the second game with 23-10 at the end of ten minutes of play, the starting five of quamme, powell, roper, sweeney, and esposito relaxed to a 34-19 halftime score. it was reserve power from there that stretched the lead, just as it had done the night before.

with the conference first place almost out of reach, the tiger quintet set its sights on second as did the other six teams in the league. colorado mines almost halted the bengals in their first meeting, for it took all-out desire and accurate shooting by newcomer ron bonkosky to clinch the game at golden, 57-50. tied 46-46 with three minutes left in the game, it was sweeney with four tallies and bonkosky with five and another win for cc. two weeks later, paced by quamme and bonkosky with 11 points each, and sweeney with 26, the miners were easy victims on the tiger home court, 76-62.

between the two mines' games had been the matches with the highly vaunted western state squad, booming into a 43-27 half-time lead, the rejuvenated tigers, paced by quamme's 21 points and sweeney's 19, easily downed the visitors 83-60. the next night it was quamme, sweeney, and powell. sweeney's 17-point first-half attack was coupled with quamme's 11, bonkosky's 6, and powell's 1 point for a slim 35-29 lead; but the final 76-62 tiger win found these totals at: sweeney 26, quamme 21, powell 12, and bonkosky 9.

colorado state continued its winning ways to ease cc from the second place slot by out-battling the tigers 80-72 on the greeley court. it is interesting to note that this next-to-the-last game produced a four-man tiger scoring threat, as bonkosky led with 16 tallies, quamme and roper with 15 each, and sweeney's 14. in a deadlock with western state for third, the bengals needed their last conference win for an undisputed spot; and so it was decided as cc topped the visiting idaho state cagers, 63-57.

for the never-say-die colorado college cagers, who had dropped their first ten games, it was third place in the conference with losses only to the two teams above them. there remained only the aau basketball tournament for further competition, as the tourney drawings were announced it was cc matched with nebraska wesleyan, a team they had already met earlier in the season. giving the appearance of being able to lick the world, the tigers jumped into a 12-point lead early in the game, only to see it dwindle to a 33-30 half-time margin, and finally to be outscored 73-59 in a hot and cold second half.

"CAPTAIN JACK"

the record books have been closed on captain jack quamme, whose basketball jersey number will be forever retired from cc play. jack's favorite no. 22 will join the only other number ever retired — the famous no. 7 football number of all-american dutch clark. quamme's record will stand as:

DIGGERS BALL

at the annual gold digger's ball, sponsored by the associated women students, the gentlemen of colorado college were rewarded for their dutiful habit of paying bills. this time the girls returned home with the empty purses and a vague bewilderment as to where all the money went. bob maloney was voted king of the gold diggers and was crowned mid his court of dave oatman, jim ward, stan brenton, glenn blagg and bill barton. joan tutin took top honors for the corsage she made and lefty brinkman wore.

January 17, 1950 was the day of the "big blaze" for cc and the rest of the piles peak region. The college family turned out en masse to fight the blaze which threatened the forest, cheyenne mountain, camp ground and the outline communities. From before dawn trucks, cars and police paddy wagons shuttled cc men to the scene of the fire. It was an exhausting day of digging gaps, beating burning brush with gunny sacks and carrying pack pumps.

The women of cc, not to be outdone, poured coffee and handed out sandwiches with the red cross; many working through the night and returning on the next day.

It was a 100 per cent good job turned out by students, faculty and administration, said our proxy, "it was real cc spirit."

Graduate records

IT'S BEEN FOUR YEARS

Colorado College had done its part during the war years; the V-12 Unit had just finished its ninth term in the Spring of 1946, and the record enrollment of 1071 in the Fall had been the highest in history. Thurston Daves had returned to the presidency; Juan Reid had returned as basketball coach and advisor to men; Hal White remained as head football coach; the social organizations of the college had moved into their houses and become active again; the C.C. Players, Growlers, Tigers and Red Lantern began functioning; the Radio Guild had become a major campus activity; there was no longer a distinction between the Unit and the civilian activities; veterans packed the ranks of men students; Tiger town and the "compass" Halls were constructed; and Colorado College was soon back to "normal."

DINNER

"mid-century review", a look-back on the progress of the past fifty years, was the theme on this year's annual A.W.S. recognition banquet, the banquet, held in May this year, was a double surprise, besides the awards presented to the outstanding senior women, the banquet was also a tribute to the most outstanding graduate, Mrs. Louise Fauteaux, retiring Dean of Women, after Mary Ruble, President of the Women's Athletic Association, had presented the athletic awards, President Gill presented the Scholarship Award to Mary Daehler, in recognition of the highest scholarship among senior women. Mrs. Fauteaux presented the Senior Recognition Awards for outstanding leadership, to six senior women: Rosemary Fuller, Clarice Hads, Gale George, Marge Gilliland, Mary Ruble, and Pat Starrels. At the conclusion of the banquet, Gale George, President of A.W.S. and Mistress of Ceremonies, presented Dean Fauteaux with a silver tea set, a gift from all the women students.

Beverly Konugres, business staff; Dick Taylor,

Helen Copenhagen, business staff.

Jerry Dummer, business staff; Peggy Merle-Smith, business staff.

The Kinnikinnik is the third and newest of the student publications of Colorado College. It is designed to stimulate creative writing, and to bring forth the more cultural side of Colorado College.

The second edition was published this year and it appears to be a great improvement over the first edition. The departments that were chosen to be represented were primarily in the fine arts classification. This was not a pre-determined selection, but only a convenient beginning. Eventually, there are plans to include all departments.

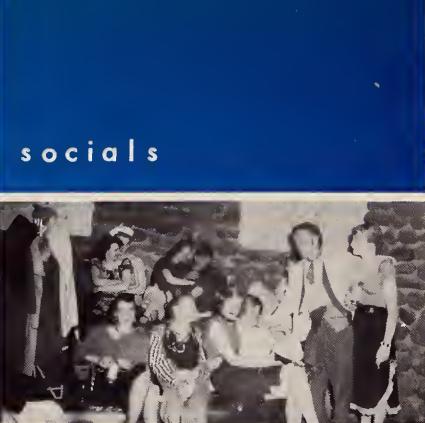

Some faculty people were kind enough to give advice on make-up and content. However, all final decisions were solely and exclusively made by the student staff.

DANCE CONCERT

this year's spring dance concert produced and directed by gregory mcdougall depended upon dance, music and lighting for its effect. it was a true exploitation of the possibilities of dance in an understandable art presentation.

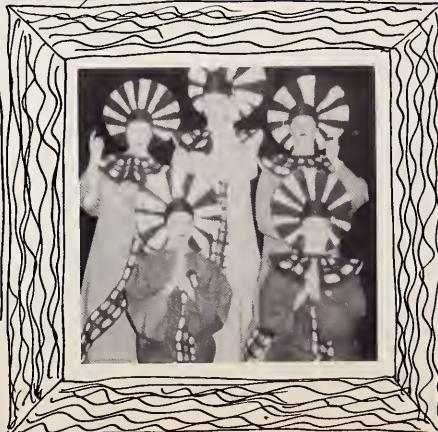

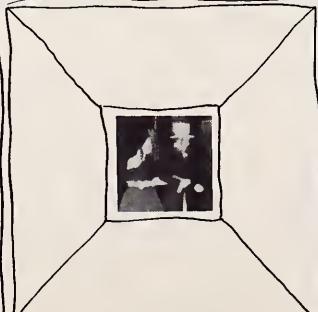

mr. mcdougall revised his choreography of stan finn's "three primitive studies" and the "dance suite" by professor ruel Palmer, ruth stellman and edgar bennett. the original production was based on matisse's "pictures at an exhibition". mr. mcdougall had permission from his former teacher, jan veen of boston, to recreate the choreography after the idea of the original production by mr. veen, and presented at the "pops" with the boston symphony.
